GREENSBORO TELEGRAM.

VOL. VII. NO. 120. GREENSBORO, N. C., FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21, 1900. Price Five Cents

A STRAIGHT BUSINESS TALK.

HOW A GREENSBORO PHYSICIAN SAVED TWO LITTLE LIVES.

The Wise Course is to Continue to Stimulate State and National Interest in Our Park.

To the Editor of The Telegram:

Since others continue to talk on the subject, please allow me a little space in The Telegram. Greensboro's present need is parks within the city limits. If the torrid heat of last summer taught any lesson, it taught this. These parks should be supplied with shade, drinking founts, and comfortable seats for all proper persons and policed and properly controlled. They should be located throughout the different sections of the town as to render them easily and readily accessible to the particular neighborhood. Dr. Richardson recently told me of facts within his personal experience, that convinces me that he saved the lives of two babies last summer by requiring that they be taken and kept out of doors from five a. m. till nine and from about five or six p. m. till ten o'clock. But where could these little ones be carried except within the narrow limits of the private yards of such families as have yards, unless they were kept in the public streets. Mothers and nurses and others enjoy and need parks. Since, however, neither individuals nor land companies have donated these and since this town is unwilling to be taxed to pay for them—we simply haven't got them nor are we likely, I fear, soon to have them.

The wise course for Greensboro to pursue is to continue so to act as to keep alive and stimulate public interest—State and national—in the Battle Ground park. We ought to secure their co-operation by arousing their sympathies for us in our efforts to preserve their battle field. Thus the Battle Ground park—already paid for and already freely at the city's service and already freely and habitually enjoyed by the city—will soon grow into all that we could desire. Two or three years, or even ten years, is a short period within the life of a city, its realty, business institutions, etc.

But lay aside all sentiment and patriotic consideration and speak from a purely commercial point of view for a moment, our citizens who own realty or have large business intereest here are compelled to advertise and pay for the advertisement of both the town and their respective private interests. The erection within our suburbs—to-wit, at the Battle Ground, of a monument that warmly enlists the pleasureable intererest of the whole State and country is the most unique and therefore the most effective method of advertising. The Telegram in its elaborate Battle Ground issues and thoroughly sensible editorials on this subject and the frequent, full and gratuitous publication of the list of subscribers to the cause, by The Telegram and Record and Patriot cover a large space of country and are quoted throughout the State.

To our former list of subscribers: Neil Ellington, President of the National Bank, $50; R. F. Dalton, of the Snow Lumber Co., of High Point, $25; another whose name will be given, $150; J. A. Odell, of the Odell Hardware Co, we are pleased to add the subscription of General Jule Carr of an additional $100.

Parties willing to help and able will please leave their names with The Telegram or Record.

Yours truly,
JOS. M. MOREHEAD,
V. P. G. B. G. Co.

Mr. Varner and Bride Here.

Mr. H. B. Varner and Miss Florence Comstock, both of Lexington, were married in the Presbyterian church at that place last night at 8 o'clock. Rev. W. H. Rich performed the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Varner spent last night in the city, leaving today for Washington city. Mr. Varner is commissioner of labor and printing.

Christmas Dances at the Club.

There will be a Christmas dance next Monday evening at the Merchants' and Manufactures' Club rooms given by the younger members of the club to their lady friends. The regular reception given by the club will occur on Friday evening the 28th.

RATIFICATION OF THE TREATY

PASSED AS AMENDED BY A VOTE OF 55 TO 18.

It Accepts the Amendment that the Treaty Supercedes the Clayton-Bulwer one and Cuts the Provision that it Shall be Offered to Other Powers.

The Hay-Poncefote treaty as amended by the Davis resolution some time ago, and by those recommended by the Foreign Relations Committee saying it supercedes the Clayton-Bulwer treaty and leaving out the clause providing for its presentation to other Powers, was passed by the Senate yesterday, by a vote of 55 to 18. The treaty as passed is as follows:

The text of the treaty as amended states its object as: "To facilitate the construction of a ship canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans and to that end to remove any objections which may arise out of the convention of April 19, 1850, commonly called the Clayton-Bulwer treaty to the construction of such canal under the auspices of the government of the United States without impairing the general principle of neutralization in article 8 of that convention." Its provisions follow:

Article I.—It is agreed that the canal may be constructed under the auspices of the government of the United States, either directly at its own cost, or by gift or loan of money by individuals or corporations or through subscription to or purchase of stock or shares, and that, subject to the provisions of the present convention, the said government shall have all the rights incident to such construction, as well as the exclusive right of providing for the regulation and management of the canal.

Article II.—The contracting parties desiring to preserve and maintain the general principle of neutralization established in article VIII of the Clayton-Bulwer convention, which convention is hereby superseded, as the basis of such neutralization, the following rules, substantially as embodied in the convention between Great Britain and certain other powers, signed at Constantinople in 1888, for the free navigation of the Suez Maritime Canal, are adopted, that is to say:

1. The canal shall be free and open, in time of war as in time of peace, to the vessels of commerce and of war of all nations, on terms of entire equality, so that there shall be no discrimination against any nation or its citizens or subjects in respects of conditions or charges of traffic or otherwise.

2. The canal shall never be blockaded, nor shall any right of war be exercised nor any act of hostility be committed within it.

3. Vessels of war of a belligerent shall not revictual nor take any stores in the canal except so far as may be strictly necessary; and the transit of such vessels through the canal shall be effected with the least possible delay, in accordance with the regulations in force, and with only such intermission as may result from the necessties of the service. Prizes shall be in all respects subject to the same rules as vessels of war of the belligerents.

4. No belligerent shall embark or disembark troops, munitions of war or warlike materials in the canal, except in case of accidental hindrance of the transit, and in such case the transit shall be resumed with all possible dispatch.

5. The provisions of this article shall apply to waters adjacent to the canal, within three marine miles of either end. Vessels of war of a belligerent shall not remain in such waters longer than 24 hours at any time except in case of distress and in such case shall depart as soon as possible, but a vessel of war of one belligerent shall not depart within 24 hours from the departure of a vessel of war of the other belligerent. It is agreed, however, that none of the immediately foregoing conditions and stipulations in sections numbered 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5, of this article, shall apply to measures which the United States may find it necessary to take for securing by its own forces the defence of the United States and the maintenance of public order.

6. The plant, establishments, buildings and all works necessary to the construction, maintenance and operation of the canal, shall be deemed to be part thereof, for the purposes of this convention, and in the time of war as in time of peace, shall enjoy complete immunity from attack or injury by belligerents and from acts calculated to impair their usefulness as a part of the canal.

9. No fortifications shall be erected commanding the canal or the waters adjacent. The United States, however, shall be at liberty to maintain such military police along the canal as may be necessary to protect it against lawlessness and disorder.

Article III.—The convention shall be ratified by the President of the United States, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate thereof, and by Her Britannic Majesty; and the ratification shall be exchanged at Washington or at London within six months from the date thereof, or earlier if possible.

"JOHN HAY,
"PAUNCEFOTE."

A SOUTHERN BELLE ON THE STAGE.

The Company to Which Miss Jones, of Charlotte, Belongs to be in Greensboro Next Week.

Miss Jones, of Charlotte, who assumes the stage name of Miss Marion Convere, will visit Greensboro with her company, playing "My Daughter-in-Law," on the 29th inst. This lady, who, since she has adopted a theatrical career, has scored a great success, is perhaps well known to many Greensboro people. She will therefore receive such a welcome here as perhaps has not been given any other company this season.

Miss Convere was born in Charlotte and is connected with many distinguished families in the South. Her father is Colonel Hamilton Convere Jones, a prominent member of the Bar of North Carolina and at one time attorney general of the State. Her grandfather, Hamilton C. Jones, was also a distinguished lawyer and a famous wit in his day. Governor Martin, the first Colonial Governor of North Carolina, was one of her ancestors. Mr. Hoke Smith, who was in President Cleveland's cabinet, is a relative.

Miss Convere is a member of the Wednesday Cotillons of the Southern society set in New York. She has frequently played in amateur theatricals, and last season made an experiment in a professional way in one of the Charles Frehman's "The Little Minister" companies. In this she was so successful that she has formally adopted the stage as a career, and is touring the South in the leading role in "My Daughter-in-Law."

THE BOSTONIA SEXTETTE.

Their Performance at the Normal Last Night Was all That Their Great Reputations Foretold.

Not since the days of the Mendelsohn Quintette Club have the people of Greensboro enjoyed so rare a treat as was offered them last night by the Bostonia Sextette. Unfortunately the extremely inclement weather deterred many from going out and we trust the Sextette may give us another opportunity to hear them next season, this being their last appearance in the South for this winter. The concerted pieces by the Sextette were very fine, the clarinet, so ably handled by Mr. C. L. Staats, giving just the needed tone color to offset the stringed instruments. In the climaxes and finales one might well have imagined the performance of a full orchestra, while in the lighter numbers, such as the Fly Minuet and Gavotte from Mignon, the delicacy of execution could not be surpassed.

Miss Ellsbee completely captivated the audience by her beautiful singing. She has a soprano voice of exquisite quality, and sang with a naturalness, and clearness of enunciation seldom equalled. The clarinet, violin and 'cello solos were all the work of artists, and were very warmly received.

The Sextette was very much pleased with the acoustic properties of the Normal Chapel, and found it a pleasure to play there.

Mr. O. D. Boycott's Father Dead.

Mr. O. D. Boycott yesterday received a cablegram from England announcing the death of his father, Rev. E. Boycott, who died yesterday morning about four o'clock, at his home in Bungay. Mr. Boycott was an Episcopalian minister and served his church with great usefulness for many years. His death was due to old age and paralysis, he having been paralyzed for eighteen years. Owing to the distance Mr. Boycott could not, of course, go home.

THE ABDUCTION MYSTERY.

THE FATHER TELLS MANY CONTRADICTORY STORIES.

He Has Publicly Offered a Reward of $25,000 for the Capture of the Abductors—The Mystery Increases.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Omaha, Dec 21.—Edward Cudahy, whose son was kidnapped, last night posted an offer of a reward of $25,000 for the capture of the abductors. He assumes there were three kidnappers and offers $5,000 for the conviction of one, $15,000 for two, or $25,000 for the whole gang.

The kidnapping case becomes more and more incomprehensible. The police are mystified, and nothing can be secured to corroborate the story of the boy neither can the story of the father be corroborated. He has told a number of conflicting stories to different men, and when his attention was called to the inconsistencies, he has made no efforts to correct them. It can be stated positively that the Chief of Police said Wednesday that he could arrest the perpetrators in an hour if the father permitted it. Later he denied that he had stated it. Cudahy says the money he gave the men was gold, and says he carried it a mile in a grip from the bank to the house. Every banker in town denies that Cudahy had that sum or any other sum this week. Cudahy says he got the gold from the National Bank of Commerce. President Barker of that bank says he did not get a cent from his bank this week. Cudahy said he went to the spot designated, absolutely alone. Last night he said he was accompanied by his chief hog buyer, but latter said he was attending a card party Wednesday evening. Now young Cudahy says he was chloroformed although he first didn't mention that fact.

Bogus Divorce Gang Sentenced.

By Wire to The Telegram.

New York, Dec. 21.—Recorder Goff today sentenced Henry Zeimer, one of the men at the head of the bogus divorce bureau, to ten years in prison, and James Holden, alias Frank Wilson, to three years. The Herrick and Thompson women were allowed to go under a suspension of sentence.

This gang made it a business to obtain divorces for other people. If a woman wanted a divorce, one of these women would appear in court and swear that the husband of the woman seeking the divorce had been in improper relations with her. If a man wanted a divorce, the men went into court and swore away the honor of the wife of the man seeking the divorce. They were doing a thriving business when apprehended.

English Fears Grow.

By Wire to The Telegram.

London, Dec. 20.—Widespread fears are entertained here regarding the spreading of the dissatisfaction of Cape Colony. Fears are also entertained that Kitchener's supplies may be cut off. The War office has so far no definite plan for furnishing the thirty thousand mounted men asked for by Kitchener.

The North Carolina Delegation Split Up on the Apportionment Bill.

Special to Charlotte Observer.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The North Carolina delegation in Congress is not a unit by any means in favor of the Hopkins bill. Soveral are looking with favor on the Burleigh bill which will give the State an additional member.

They have had informal conferences on the subject, but when the voting occurs it will probably be found that without regard to politics the delegation will be very much split up.

Esterhazy a Vagabond.

Paris, Dec. 20.—Major Count Ferdinand Esterhazy, who figured so prominently in the Dreyfus case, has sunk into utter misery, and writes from London that he is penniless, has not eaten for two days, has no clothes, and is compelled to warm himself by entering churches and museums.

GREAT STORM OFF HATTERAS.

AN AMERICAN WARSHIP REPORTED AGROUND.

Two Vessels Said to Have Been Lost and a Big Ocean Liner is Aground—Storm on English Coast Also.

By Wire to The Telegram.

Norfolk, Dec. 21.—An awful storm is raging off Hatteras. One United States warship is reported aground and two vessels lost and a big ocean liner ashore. The wind is increasing and the sea is tremendous. It is the report at Virginia Beach that an unknown schooner is ashore. The North Atlantic squadron is prevented from sailing today by the blow.

ON THE ENGLISH COAST.

London, Dec 21.—The White Star steamer Cufie, recently built, has been abandoned off Skerrier. Her anchors were dropped in seventeen fathoms of water, the crew was landed by tugs at Holyhead, Wales, a few miles away. The Hawsers of the tugs which were towing the Cufie, parted in heavy seas. A terrific gale has been raging along the English coast and several small ships are reported wrecked, especially on the south and west coasts.

WARNING AT NEW YORK.

New York, Dec. 21.—Local forecaster Emery this morning received the following warning from the Washington bureau: "Storm off Hatteras, moving northeast, easterly shifting to northeast; gales off North Atlantic and Novo Scotia coast tonight, and New Foundland Saturday.

THE NORMAL DIRECTORS.

They Met Last Night and Among Other Things, Endorsed the Plan for Raising $100,000.

The Board of Directors of the State Normal and Industrial College met last night to prepare a report to be sent to the legislature, which will embody all the needs of the institution in detail. This report will show a considerable deficit, caused by the epidemic of typhoid fever, which cost thousands of dollars.

The Board expressed their appreciation of the gifts to the College during the past two years, and their approval of the plan to raise an endowment fund of one hundred thousand dollars.

The executive committee composed of Lieutenant Governor-Elect Turner and S. M. Gattis, Esq., audited and approved all the accounts and expenditures of the institution for the past year, ending October 1.

The Board adjourned at a late hour after appointing a committee to complete the report to be sent Governor Russell. Governor-Elect Aycock will also be furnished a copy.

Death of an Infant.

The infant child of Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Whitaker; who live on Lithia street died Wednesday night, of diptheria. The remains were interred yesterday in Greene Hill cemetery. Rev. and Mrs. Whitaker have the sympathy of the entire community, in this sad bereavement.

Mr. Whitaker is the president of the Methodist Protestant Conference, and moved to Greensboro about three weeks ago. Before coming to Greensboro, Mr. Whitaker served his church in Granville county.

Hop Monday Night.

There will be a hop in the hall formerly used by the Brockmann School of Music next Monday night, given by a club of young men to their lady friends. Music will be furnished by Mr. Claude Elam's orchestra, and Dughi, of Raleigh, will contribute to the further enjoyment of the occasion by his refreshments. The arrangements are in the hands of a committee composed of Messrs. Charles Cline, Ney Forbis, Jess Mebane, and Luke Andrews, Jr.

Calendars.

The use of calendars seems to be a favorite mode of advertising with Greensboro firms this year. About a dozen handsome ones have been received at this office, the latest ones being from the Odell Hardware Co., and Woodard & McCuiston, hardware merchants on the south-side.

Mr. J. J. Stone today got his calendar which is very pretty indeed out today, and all made by himself.

THIRTY-FIVE YEARS A BALL PLAYER

O'Rourke, Famous With the New Yorks, Will Boss That Nine Next Season.

New York Clipper.

James H. O'Rourke's baseball career is undoubtedly the most phenomenal in the history of the game. For thirty-four consecutive years has he played ball, and if his health continues good he will be playing for several more seasons to come.

He was born August 24, 1854, at Bridgeport, Conn. In 1867 he joined the Unions, an amateur nine of Bridgeport. In 1872 he joined the Mansfields of Middletown, Conn., and played short until the team disbanded, when he returned to the Osceolas of Stratford, and finished the season with the latter.

O'Rourke joined the Bostons in the spring of 1873 and continued with them until the close of the campaign of 1878, and helped them to win the championship three times—1873, 1874, 1875. During the season of 1879 he transferred his alliance to the Providence team, and once more helped to win the championship. In 1880 he returned to the Boston team. In 1881 he joined the Buffalo team of the National League, and played with it four seasons. In 1885 he came to the New York Club and remained with it until the end of the season of 1892, except during 1890, when he played with the New York Players' League team. In 1893, his last season in the major league, he participated in 129 championship contests, as a member of the Washington team.

He started out in 1894 as a major league umpire, but tiring of that onerous position, he resigned just after July 4, and returned to his home where he finished the season with a local team called the St. Josephs. In 1895 he organized a semi-professional team, called the Victors, and played throughout that season with it, mostly filling the catcher's position. In 1896 he organized the Naugatuck Valley League, and acted as captain-manager, and caught for the Bridgeport team that year. In 1897 he helped to organize the Connecticut State League, which is still in existence and is one of the most prosperous of the minor leagues. Mr. O'Rourke has been secretary of that league since its inception, and each year has caught for the Bridgeport team, which he owns, and acts as captain and manager. In 1874, while a member of the Bostons, that team, with the Athletics, of Philadelphia, made a trip to England. He seems to have lost none of his youthful vigor and suppleness, and plays with as much snap and vim as at any time during his early days on the green diamond.

Ten-Year-Old Girl Burglar.

Milwaukee, Wis., Dec. 19.—Ten-year-old Gertrude Geretz was today sent to the Industrial School for Girls on the charge of burglary. Doctors who have examined the child say she is a hopeless kleptomaniac. The child has frequently fallen into the hands of the police for thefts. For three nights last week she made midnight visits among houses in her neighborhood.

On Monday night she left her home while her parents were asleep and entered the home of Dr. J. H. Huenneckens. She found the garments of the doctor's daughter in the house, which she entered through a window from the porch, and taking off her own clothes donned those of the doctor's girl. The next day the physician saw the girl on the street with the stolen garments and this led to her arrest and the discovery that she had been making regular midnight raids. She said she wanted the stolen things for Christmas presents.

Two Hundred Christians Slain.

London, Dec. 20.—A dispatch to the Daily Express from Vienna reports recent Moslem excesses against the Christian population in the central provinces of Turkey, where 200 Christians have been killed.

Wilmington and Raleigh Got Poor Results

Raleigh Times.

Wilmington has had much the same experience with its new census that Raleigh had. The Dispatch says of the enumeration: "The police finished their census this afternoon. They make the population of Wilmington 20,907 which is just sixty-nine less than the government made it. The police were a little disappointed in not getting a larger figure than they did, but they have the satisfaction of knowing that they did the best they could. They know that they missed some persons, but it is next to impossible to get everybody. The officers who had the work in charge did their work faithfully."

is where we stand in the lumber business. At the kicking spot, as it were, in regard to prices.

First comes the owner of the timber. He just woke up to the value of it and wants double last year's prices. Then the sawmill man. He has not been making a fortune and thinks now he should share a little in the general prosperity

They say to us: "We must have so much for our trees and work." After a while it is "up to you." Don't kick. You don't suppose we have nerve enough to put up prices unless they had first been put up on us. No, indeed. But prices are NOT high. They have been to low and are just now getting reasonable. Your children will be glad to build at double the price it now costs you. It is a trite, but true saying, if you want to build, "Now is the time."

And ours is the place to get the stuff.

A DINNER FOR THE UNFORTUNATES.

The Ladies are Making Preparations to Carry Sunshine and Gladness Into Weary Lives.

To the Editor of the Telegram:

When all the world seems full of good cheer and happiness, it is hard to realize that there are those to whom the Christmas tide brings only sad, sweet memories of the by gone years, when loved ones gathered with them at the old home; when there were no vacant chairs, but peace and joy reigned in every heart. But there are some in our midst to whom "the day goes by like a shadow on the heart;" for whom no loved ones wait to welcome them home, for they have no home, but in the evening of life, with the infirmities of old age creeping over them, and with no tender hands to minister to them, they spend their Christmas in an almshouse.

At a recent meeting of the W. C. T. U., the ladies determined, if possible, to make this Christmas one bright spot in their cheerless lives, so a dinner will be prepraed for them, and served by several ladies, the day after Christmas, at the almshouse Contributions, either in money or provisions will be gladly received on Monday and Wednesday morning up to 10 o'clock, by Mrs. F. E. Ross at the S. L. and T. building, Mrs. Mary E. Cartland on the Southside, or by Mrs. W. H. Osborne, on West Washington street, any time from Monday evening until Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock.

There are 26 of these unfortunates—not criminals—and out of the abundance of our good things, can we not spare something to make this day a success?

BRAVE MEN FALL

Victims to stomach, liver and kidney troubles as well as women, and all feel the results in loss of appetite, poisons in the blood, backache, nervousness, headache and tired, listless, run-down feeling. But there's no need to feel like that. Listen to J. W. Gardner, Idaville, Ind. He says: "Electric Bitters are just the thing for a man when he is all run down, and don't care whether he lives or dies. It did more to give me new strength and appetite than anything I could take. I can now eat anything and have a new lease on life." Only 50 cents at C. E. Holton's drug store. Every bottle guaranteed.

To Reduce our stock of opera, field and magnifying glasses, lorgnettes, cameras and supplies, talking machines, etc., we are offering special low prices this week. Moore Optical Co. d 19-3t.

SCROFULA

is "bad blood." A little break of the skin becomes a sore; you come to have a good many perhaps. There are other manifestations of scrofula. This is the plain one.

There is a germ to be killed. You kill it with vital force.

What is that?

It's the power that life has. Full life is strong; scant life is weak.

Take Scott's emulsion of cod-liver oil, to cultivate life. Abounding life is, perhaps, the cure of all diseases.

We'll send you a little to try if you like.

E. F. BEASLEY, Editor and Manager

FRIDAY, DECEMBER 21

OH, DON'T.

Our contemporary, the Winston Sentinel, the editor of which is a member-elect of the legisture, says:

Surely, it looks as if there is ground for impeachment proceedings in the Supreme Court's usurpation of authority in the shell fish incident. The News and Observer says: "The three Republican members of the Supreme Court transcended their power in issuing the mandamus and made themselves liable to impeachment in that they not only ordered the State treasurer to disobey a legislative mandate, but also themselves issued an order which the State constitution expressly forbids them to issue. Section 9, Article iv, of the constitution reads: 'The Supreme Court shall have original jurisdiction to hear claims against the State, but its decision shall be merely recommendatory. No process in the nature of execution shall be issued there on. They shall be reported to the next session of the general assembly for its action.'"

We are frank to say that it appears to us that this particular bit of peanut politics has gone far enough. Everybody knows that the root of the matter is that we Democrats failed, when we got possession of the other offices, to scoop Commodore White's. We all talked pretty roughly about the looting Populists and Republicans, and it was just, but when we swept them from power the smallness of their kind of politics should have passed away along with all the vile things that they disgraced the old State with. When we failed by dignified legal process to get the offices to which, by virtue of an obsolete judicial precedent they still clung, we should not stoop to the little methods employed by the legislature to put Treasurer Worth in an awkward position in commanding him not to pay the salary of an officer which the Supreme Court had decided was the legal one. If the Supreme Court wanted to take a hand in the matter by issuing a mandamus on the treasurer, why that was their business, and small enough it was, too. We should be too big to attempt to checkmate them by an equally small act. Let the littleness go out with the crowd that inaugurated it.

REFORM THAT IS REFORM.

Nearly every reform suggested to the incoming legislature is in the interest directly or indirectly of the children of North Carolina. This shows that our people are thinking seriously about the necessity of bettering the condition of the childhood of our State, and it raises the hope, long cherished but often disappointed, that the General Assembly of North Carolina, will be the Children's Friend.—Charity and Children.

Charity and Children is authority on children if anybody is, and we receive its statement regarding reforms suggested for the enactment of the legislature with great pleasure. We have always been suspicious of the word reform since it was appropriated to so many bad uses by certain people, but we are willing, upon the authority of our contemporary, to again receive it into good standing, and hope that all reforms in behalf of the children will be carried out, every one of them.

In the House this morning a bill was offered by Representative Loudenschlaer fixing the salary of the vice president at $25,000, and the cabinet officers at $10,000, each. This is a move in the right direction. North Carolina needs to do a little along this line.

Old man Cudahy is fully as groggy as if he had been abducted himself instead of the boy.

Death of Lewin W. Barringer.

The News and Observer says that Lewin W. Barringer died in Philadelphia Saturday night. "Mr. Barringer died suddenly of pneumonia. He was widely known and had many friends throughout the State and in Raleigh, where he spent a large part of his life, and, with his brother, owned valuable property.

"Mr. Barringer was a son of the late Hon. D M. Barringer, a distinguished citizen of this State, and at one time minister from the United States to Spain. He was raised in Raleigh and spent his early manhood here, where he was very popular. Some years ago he moved to Philadelphia, where his ability as a lawyer brought him a large measure of success. His untimely death is a source of much regret to many in the State who knew and remembered him as a good and kindly friend."

Mr. Barringer leaves a wife, a daughter, and two sons. He was a full cousin of Col. John A. Barringer, of Greensboro.

TROUBLE WITH DOCUMENTS.

Public Officers and Collectors Become Overstocked with Old Books and Papers.

What to destroy and what to save in the way of old documents, newspapers and other publications, has become a question requiring most serious thought. One of the committees of congress bears this peculiar title: "Disposition of Useless Papers in the Executive Departments," and another: "Examination and Disposition of Documents." The names of the committees suggest their duties, says Youth's Companion.

Not only public officers, but the directors of libraries and museums, to say nothing of private collectors, are often puzzled by the accumulation of matter issuing from modern printing presses. A bill was recently introduced in parliament to enable the trustees of the British museum to distribute or destroy "valueless printed matter in their possession."

To this proposal a Shakespearean scholar of prominence objected. He argued that no one could discriminate between what may be valuable and what valueless for the historical investigator of the future. Who knows but that the trade circular, the country newspaper, or the street song, may throw a most important light several hundred years hence upon some mooted question of our present life?

This discussion has an interest to a wider circle than librarians and public officers. The man who attempts no collection of books or papers is compelled to choose each day what disposition he shall make of the knowledge that comes to him; for the human brain and memory are storehouses of limited dimensions, and time is short. To learn what to lay up in memory, what to omit and what to disregard, is an important part of all education.

MOKIS NOT MERCENARY.

Chicago Man Corrects the Impression That Whites Can Buy Admission to the Snake Dance.

It seems an injustice to a well-meaning, gentle and picturesque tribe of Indians, as earnest and serious in their ceremonies as the people of Oberammergau, with their play for a price, to give out widespread the impression that the Moki Indians allow money to enter into their calculations in celebrating their god dances. The contrary situation is the fact. I was present at their last snake dance at the village of Oreibi, on the West Mesa, in Arizona, and witnessed a situation which disputes your assertion, says a correspondent of the Chicago Tribune.

Two persistent and enthusiastic white men, one of whom I was, slipped down into their sacred snake khiva previous to the ceremonies and refused to be dislodged when the members of the snake order descended to begin the ritual and wash the snakes prior to the dance and the performances all ceased until we removed ourselves. Our parleying and proffers of coin delayed the dance at least two hours, and not until abandonment of the spectacle, implying personal injury to our party, was threatened would we relinquish our determination to follow the ceremony from sunrise to dusk in all its weird secrecy and solemnity.

The sum of $100 was tendered the snake priest to permit our presence. This was declined without even a consideration, and at no time during the dance, which did not go on until we had repaired to a prescribed distance, was there a flash of the smallest-sized coin or piece of money. The Mokis will abandon their incantations before they will come to an admittance fee.

THE PERPLEXING LEONIDES.

Astronomers Prepare to Photograph Heavenly Display That May Not Appear.

Yale astronomers are preparing to photograph what Leonides appear in the heavens this fall. Last year at this time the most extensive preparations were made to photograph the meteroric display, but the cloudy skies and the fact that but few leonids appeared threw the astronomers into a state of great perplexity. Since then the reason for the non-appearance of the meteorites has not been discovered. Dr. Frederick L. Chase, of the Yale observatory, says:

"There is just as much reason to expect the leonids at this time as last year. Astronomers have not yet been able to discover why it is that with the usual regularity with which the leonids come every 33 years the shower last year failed to appear. There are two possible explanations of this. Since the last great shower in 1866 Jupiter has passed quite close to the portion of the orbit containing the meteors due in 1899, and has, according to calculations, so perturbed the path as to make them cross the line of the earth's orbit several hundred thousand miles inside the orbit—that is, nearer the sun—so that the earth may not have passed through the swarm. At the same time the stream will take but four or five hours in passing any way, and if it comes before the radiant is above the horizon it will not be seen at all.

"The second possible explanation is that there was a dearth of meteors in that portion of the swarm encountered by the earth in 1899, and there is no reason to-day to think that they are evenly distributed. It is possible, however, to believe that the portion of the stream due at the intersection of the earth's orbit this year, has not yet been perturbed by Jupiter in the same way as last year."

TO CONDUCT A DAIRY FARM.

Former Well-Known Newspaper Woman Buys Herd of Jerseys.

Mrs. Antoinette Van Hoesen Wakeman, formerly a well-known newspaper woman in Chicago, has put a herd of grade Jersey and Jersey-Holstein cows on her farm, near Hastings, Minn., and made the first shipment of milk to the Crescent Creamery company, of St. Paul.

Mrs. Wakeman believes that Hastings is admirably situated to become a point for the shipping of milk to the Twin Cities. She proposes to devote her place, which is less than a mile from the courthouse, exclusively to dairy products and fruit, and has built a barn, and proposes to have her herd and milk cared for on the lines indicated by Prof. T. L. Haecker, of the agricultural experiment station of the state university. Mrs. Wakeman has arranged to ship from 20 to 30 gallons of milk daily.

Although this is a somewhat unusual innovation for a woman in this part of the country, "personally conducted" farms are a profitable fad of eastern women. Mrs. Richard Watson Gilder, whose husband is the editor of the Century, has a farm of 250 acres, where she lives nine months out of every year, and makes most profitable. Abram Hewitt's daughters are also enthusiastic and successful scientific farmers, and many other well-known women are devoting themselves to similar agricultural undertakings.

Their Hundred Dollar Bill

"SO HE'S gone at last, has he?" said my wife, with a little elevation of her pretty eyebrows. "I began to think he was somewhat gifted with immortality."

"Dead at last," said I. "And what do you think, Jenny? He has left us a hundred dollars."

"A hundred dollars!" echoed my wife, clasping her hands together. "O, Charles—a hundred dollars!"

Now all this may sound like a two-pence-half-penny sort of affair to some of my readers, as I am very well aware. But as I am only a clerk on a salary of $900 a year—a hundred dollars drifting, as it were, out of the sky, seemed a very neat little sum to me.

Jenny and I were both young people, just beginning the world, with no particular riches, except one apple-cheeked baby. I walked to and from business every day to save the 20-cents fares. We did our best to make both ends meet—and a tight pull we found it.

Old Uncle Moses Manson was mortally offended when his niece, Jenny Clifford, chose to marry me instead of a weazened, bespectacled old contemporary of his own. He had never spoken to her since, and we naturally entertained no very exalted hopes of any testamentary recollections on his part. And the $100 bill, therefore, possessed the charm of an agreeable surprise into the bargain.

"Charles," said Jenny, under breath, "what shall we do with it?"

"That is the very question," said I. "Do you know, Jenny—"

I hesitated a little here.

"Yes?" she responded, interrogatively.

"Every fellow in the bank, except me, has a gold watch. I've been ashamed of this old silver concern more than once. And Seymour has a very nice secondhand one for sale that he will let me have for $90 if—"

"And turn the $100 into a mere useless ornament!" cried Jenny, with a strong accent of disapprobation in her voice. "Charley, that isn't a bit like you."

"Well, then, what do you suggest?"

"I should so like to give a social party with it," said Jenny, coaxingly. "Only think how often we've been invited out since we were married, and never have had a chance to return any of the hospitalities of our friends. The musicians, the supper, and all, would come within the hundred dollars."

"And you are absurd enough to wish to eat, and drink, and dance up a sum like that!" I cried. "No, no, Jennette, it is entirely out of the question."

"A new velvet suit for the baby?" suggested Jenny, pouting a little at the emphasis of my words.

"How would it correspond with the rest of our surroundings?" I asked, not without an accent of bitterness. "You had a great deal better suggest a new winter suit and overcoat for me. You never seem to observe how shabby I am getting."

"Nobody notices a gentleman's dress," said Jenny. "I can make your overcoat look very nice with fresh binding and new buttons—but how I should like a sealskin jacket!"

"Jenny," said I, somewhat disgusted, "I had no idea you could be so selfish."

"Selfish, indeed!" cried she. "I would like to know whether you have yet suggested anything which was not for your own special benefit and use!"

We were both silent. I don't suppose either one of us had felt so vindictive before, since our marriage. Clearly the $100 bill had worked no great benefit as yet.

"I'll tell you what, Jenny," said I; "let's compromise. Let's buy a new sitting-room and stairs carpet. I saw a beautiful pattern yesterday."

"I don't care very much for new carpets as long as we live on a second floor," said Jenny. "And you don't seem to remember, Charles, that I haven't had a silk dress since we were married. Black silk is suitable for all occasions, from a wedding to a funeral, and I really think—"

"I believe a woman's thoughts are always running on dress," muttered I, somewhat contemptuously. "I'm sure that black alpaca of yours is beautiful."

"That's all you know about the matter," said Jenny, elevating her nose. "Well, I don't care. Spend the money as you choose. Only, Uncle Moses was my relative."

"And the money was left to me, Mrs. Everts," said I.

"O, Charles," said she, "how can you speak to me so?"

"Because I'm a brute, Jenny," said I, fairly melted. "Forgive me, and we'll fling the old hundred-dollar bill into the fire before we'll let it scatter the seeds of division between us."

"No, Charley, don't do that," said Jenny, laughing through her tears. "Let's—put it in the savings bank."

"Agreed," said I. "And apropos of savings banks, did I tell you about Greene?"

"No. What about Greene?"

"Why, he and his wife have just moved into the prettiest little gothic cottage you ever saw, just the other side of the Harlem bridge, with a lawn and garden, and space to keep a little Alderney cow."

"Rented it?"

"No; bought it."

"Why, Charle, how can that be? Greene has only 200 or 300 a year more than you, and it takes money to buy places in the country."

"All savings banks, my dear," said I. "Greene tells me that he and his wife have been saving up for years, with special reference to this country home for their children. They commenced with a 50-cent piece."

"We can do better than that!" said Jenny, with sparkling eyes. "And I'll do without the silk dress."

"And I'll make the old overcoat last another season, at the very least," I added.

The next morning, bright and early, as soon as business hours would permit, I went and deposited the hundred dollars in the nearest savings bank.

A week afterward Mr. Manyply dropped in, in a friendly way. Mr. Manyply is the lawyer who transacted Uncle Moses Manson's financial affairs—a plump, bald-headed, deep-voiced old gentleman, who always dresses in spotless black and wears a big seal ring on the little finger of his left hand.

"So," said Mr. Manyply, "you've invested that $100, have you?"

"Yes," said I, with the complacent air of one who has an account in bank. "But how did you know it?"

"O, I know a good many things," said Mr. Manyply, oracularly. "But what's the idea of it?"

"Economy," struck in Jenny, proudly. "We are saving now, Mr. Manyply. We mean to have a home for our little Charley—a garden full of roses and pinks and strawberries one of these days."

"And a very laudible ambition," said Mr. Manyply, in that smooth, oily way of his. "How much would such a place cost now?"

"Charley thinks if we waited for a bargain we could secure it for about $7,000," Jenny answered, promptly.

"Buy it now, then," said Mr. Manyply. "Here's a check for $8,000."

"Eh?" cried I, breathlessly.

"A check," the old lawyer went on, "signed by your uncle Manson, payable to the order of his niece, Jane Anne Evarts. Ah! you may well look astonished. He was an ececentric old chap, this uncle of yours, Mrs. Evarts—and I have his written instructions to keep an eye on the manner in which you invested that $100 bequest of his. 'If it is squandered in any foolish way, he writes, 'there is an end of the matter. 'Put my money all in the hospital for hunchbacks. If they show any disposition to save help them along with this check for $8,000, to be expended only in the purchase of real estate.' I congratulate you."

This is how we became possessed of our little country home, where Charley thrives like a growing flower and Jenny flits about in a broad-brimmed gardening hat, trimming roses, pruning gooseberries and planting lily bulbs. And the $100 bill still lies untouched in the savings bank.

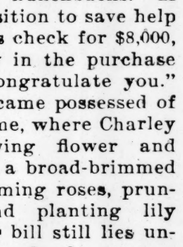
"It shall be Charley's fortune," says my wife. "It would be a shame to touch it after it has wrought us so much good."—Philadelphia Item.

Inventions of an Ingenious Earl.

The earl of Wemyss and March has invented an implement which has been adopted by the war office, and which can be used as a spade, pickax or saw, and also as a bullet shield. The ingenious instrument, says the British Weekly, will become part of every soldier's kit.

No External Symptoms.

The blood may be in bad condition, yet with no external signs, no skin eruption or sores to indicate it. The symptoms in such cases being a variable appetite, poor digestion, an indescribable weakness and nervousness, loss of flesh and a general run-down condition of the system—clearly showing the blood has lost its nutritive qualities, has become thin and watery. It is in just such cases that S. S. S. has done some of its quickest and most effective work by building up the blood and supplying the elements lacking to make it strong and vigorous.



"My wife used several bottles of S. S. S. as a blood purifier and to tone up a weak and emaciated system, with very marked effect by way of improvement. "We regard it a great tonic and blood purifier."—J. F. DUFF, Princeton, Mo.

SSS is the greatest of all tonics, and you will find the appetite improves at once, strength returns, and nervousness vanishes as new rich pure blood once more circulates through all parts of the system.

S. S. S. is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known. It contains no minerals whatever. Send for our free book on blood and skin diseases and write our physicians for any information or advice wanted. No charge for medical advice.

8164—Childs' Dress.
6 mos., 1, 2 and 4 years.

CHILD'S DRESS. NO. 8164.

Dainty white China silks is here associated with allover silk embroidery and edging.

The full fronts and backs are gathered at the upper edges and arranged on a shallow yoke, which closes invisibly in the center back with buttons and buttonholes.

The bertha is shaped with a scallop in the center front and extends out over the sleeves. It is finished with a narrow frill.

The skirt is trimmed with a ruffle of silk embroidery, surmounted by a band of insertion.

The short, puff sleeves are gathered at the upper and lower edge and completed with a band of insertion to match that used on the skirt. The dress may be worn with or without a guimpe.

Pretty little dresses can be made of nainsook, dimity, lawn or cambric, with lace and embroidery for trimming or soft cashemere, poplin and albatross, with velvet or fancy silk for decoration.

To make the dress for a child of two years will require two and one-fourth yards of thirty-six inch material, one-fourth yards of all over embroidery for bertha, three and one-fourth yards of edging, and two and three-fourths yards of insertion. The pattern, No. 8194, is cut in sizes for children six months, one, two and four years.

When the stomach is tired out it must have a rest, but we can't live without food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure "digests what you eat" so that you can eat all the good food you want while it is restoring the digestive organs to health. GOOD ADVICE.

The most miserable things in the world are those suffering from dyspepsia and liver complaint. More than seventy-five per cent. of the people in the United States are afflicted with these two diseases and their effects: such as sour stomach, sick headache, habitual costiveness, palpitation of the heart, heart-burn, waterbrash, gnawing and burning pains at the pit of the stomach, yellow skin, coated tongue and disagreeable taste in the mouth, coming up of food after eating, low spirits, etc. Go to your druggist and get a bottle of August Flower for 75 cents. Two doses will relieve you. Try it. Get Green's Prize Almanac.

RHEUMATISM—CATARRH—DISEASES CURED BY B. B. B.

It is the deep-seated, obstinate cases of catarrh and rheumatism that B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) cures. It matters not what other treatments, doctors, sprays, liniments, medicated air blood purifiers, have failed to do, B. B. B. always promptly reaches the real cause and roots out and drives from the bones, joints, mucuous membrane, and entire system the specific poison in the blood that causes rheumatism and catarrh. B. B. B. is the only remedy strong enough to do this and cure ond so there can never be a return to the symptoms. Don't give up hope, but try B. B. B. (Botanic Blood Balm) or 3 Bs.

For sale by druggists and Howard Gardner, in Greensboro, at $1 per large bottle, or 6 large bottles (full treatment) $5. To prove our faith in B. B. B. we will send a trial bottle free to sufferers, so they may test the remedy at our expense. Address Blood Balm Co., Atlanta, Ga.

DeWitt's Little Early Risers are dainty little pills, but they never fail to cleanse the liver, remove obstructions and invigorate the system. Howard Gardner.

A GOOD THING.

German Syrup is the special prescription of Dr. A. Boschee, a celebrated German physician, and is acknowledged to be one of the most fortunate discoveries in medicine. It quickly cures coughs, colds and all lung troubles of the severest nature, removing, as it does, the cause of the affection and leaving the parts in a strong and healthy condition. It is not an experimental medicine, but has stood the test of years, giving satisfaction in every case, which its rapidly increasing sale every season confirms. Two million bottles sold annually. Boschee's German Syrup was introduced in the United States in 1868, and is now sold in every town and village in the civilized world. Three doses will relieve any ordinary cough. Price 75 cts. Where To Advertise

There are other waterfalls, but there is only one Niagara.

There are many ways of advertising, but there is only one great way---that is the newspaper. : How to Advertise? Say just what you mean, and do exactly what you say. : We Defy the Public to show a single instance where we have not done just as we advertised. This advertisement will be no exception to our past record. This is what we are going to say at this time: Anyone buying a winter wrap from us between now and 11 o'clock next Monday night, will receive all our profit thrown in as a Chrismas gift. Be wise and act at once.

The Normal Magazine.

The State Normal Magazine for December is just out, from the presses of Reece & Elam. It is a very creditable number. The table of contents is first class, and the pretty cover is quite artistic.

Train Broke Down.

The train from Raleigh, which arrives here at 5.30 in the morning did not get here till four o'clock this afternoon. The train is a mixed one. The trucks under an oil tank broke down two miles beyond Mebane, and made quite a serious delay in traffic. Nobody was hurt. Two wrecking trains were sent to clear up things.

Coroner's Inquest.

Dolphus Causey, the negro shot by Will Headen Monday night, having died, the county coroner, Dr. J. P. Turner, late yesterday afternoon summoned the following jury to hold an inquest: J. H. Rankin, T. M. Pickard, R. P. Walters, C. N. McAdoo, Ed. Wheeler and F. N. Taylor. They returned a verdict that the deceased met death by a wound inflicted by Will Headen.
